A Place of Welcome. A Table of Grace.

The Dream Before Us

Stewardship is faithfully caring for what God has entrusted to us and using our resources to bless others and build a future together. It includes our money, time, gifts, relationships, property, imagination, and shared life. It begins with gratitude for what we have received and asks how God might be calling us to use it.

Over the past year, we have seen what faithful stewardship can make possible. After paying off the Grace Center ahead of schedule last year, we were able to direct resources toward needs that had been deferred. Together, we have renewed our Children's Education Hall, invested in the people who care for our youngest children, and completed needed work throughout our building and grounds. These are tangible ways we have cared for what has been entrusted to us while preparing for the people and possibilities still to come.

Last year, we were invited to Imagine. We dreamed about what might be possible with the resources already in our hands. Now, we are entering our Field of Dreams season—a time to turn those dreams into action.

This congregation has built before. In the 1970s, an earlier generation built our sanctuary and education space at 3209 Middle Road. In the early 2000s, the congregation built the Grace Center, expanding what was possible for our ministry and community. Each generation received something from those who came before, listened for God's call in its own time, and responded with faith.

That is who we are. We dream. We discern. We build.

Now, it is our turn.

The dream is before us.

The resources are in our hands.

The faithfulness of those who came before surrounds us.

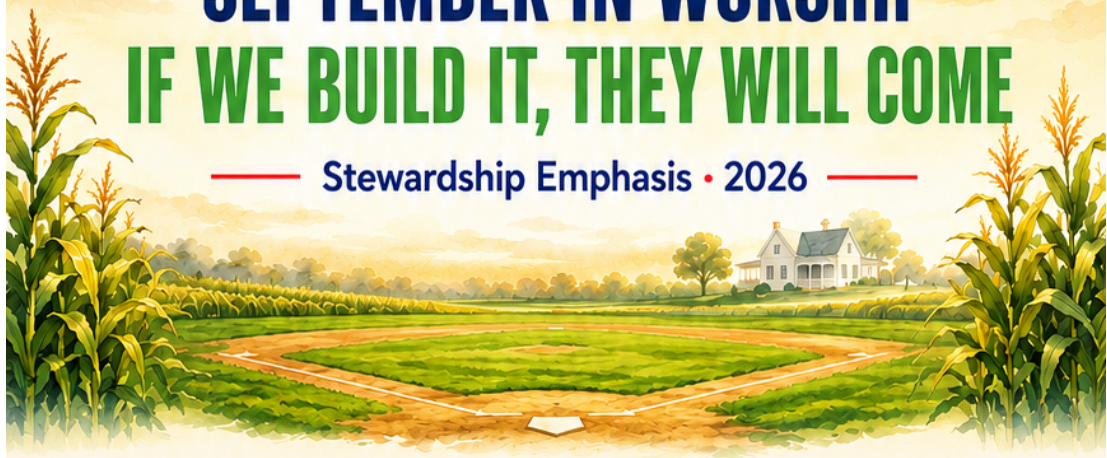

And God is calling us forward.

Throughout September, we invite you to prayerfully consider your place in the life we are building together. Every gift, commitment, idea, hour of service, and act of faith becomes part of God's work among us and part of what we will entrust to those who come after us.

SEPTEMBER IN WORSHIP

IF WE BUILD IT, THEY WILL COME

Stewardship Emphasis • 2026

If We Build It, They Will Come is a five-week stewardship series exploring what it means to faithfully build upon the dreams entrusted to us. We will remember the generations whose faith and generosity brought us here, recognize the many gifts and resources already present among us, listen together for God's call, and consider what it means to invest in a future we cannot yet see. The series will conclude by celebrating what we have built together and renewing our commitment to the ministries and possibilities still ahead.
